Marlene & Hans

No fixed menu. Just daily inspiration.

On our gulet, the menu is written by the sea, the soil, and you. Your private chef finds his inspiration in the moment, scours the local markets and consults the fishermen for the day's finest offerings.

The result is a spontaneous culinary experience. A gourmet dish created just for you, in that moment, that will never be repeated in quite the same way again.

"The gourmet cuisine is an integral part of your Sailing Chef experience."

Your private chef sources the freshest ingredients and creates inspiring local and international dishes cooked to perfection."

Your private map to paradise unlocked. One bay at a time.

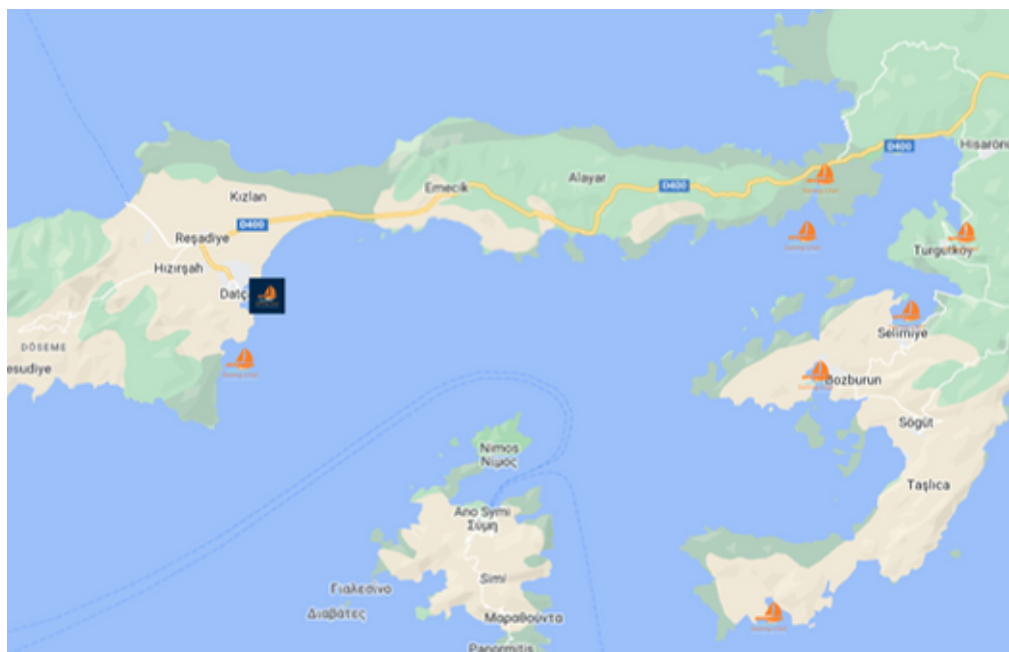

Our voyages explore the stunning region where the Mediterranean and Aegean seas meet, showcasing the beauty of the Turkish Riviera, with the Greek Islands of Rhodes and Kos visible in the distance.

Sailing conditions are typically calm, and the weather is ideal for most of the year. The seawater warms up in April and remains comfortable for swimming until November.

Our home base, Datça Liman, on the Datça Peninsula, is perfectly positioned for exploring both the northern and southern parts of this captivating region. You'll enjoy favorable winds, breathtaking scenery, and a tranquil sea, creating the ideal setting for an unforgettable Blue Voyage experience.

Your departure harbor is easily accessible, with four major airports nearby.

- Dalaman (DLM)
- Bodrum (BJV)
- Rhodes (RHO)
- Kos (KGS)

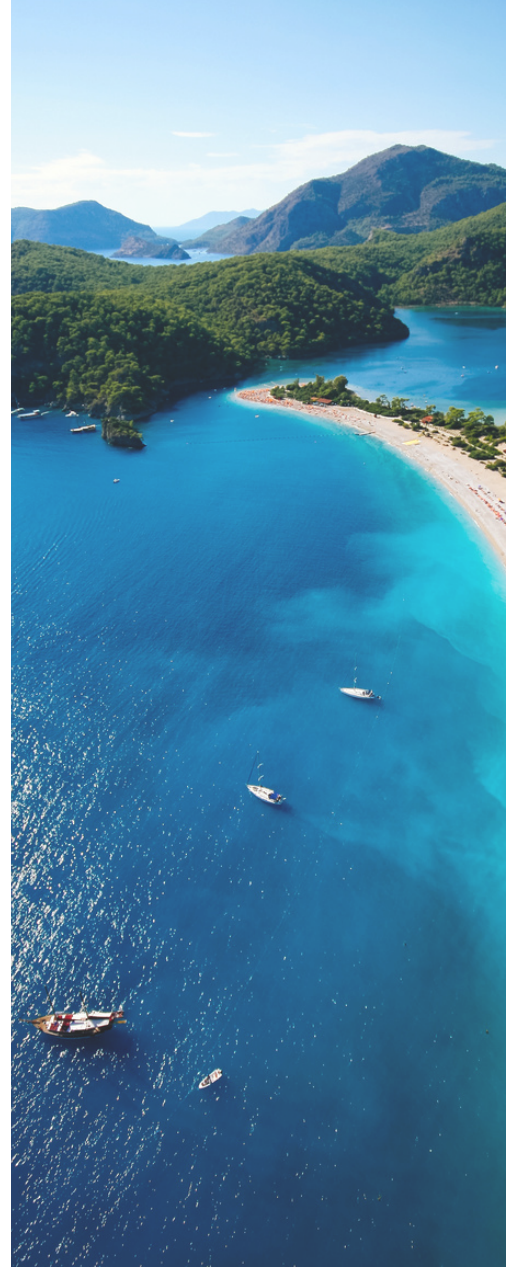

Each Sailing Chef Voyage: A New Discovery, Just Like Your First.

The amazing region stretches from Bodrum, located at the Gulf of Gokova, to our home base in Datca, Bozborun, Selimiye and Marmaris, providing a diverse range of itineraries for each blue cruise, making it a unique experience.

Additionally, the Greek Dodecanese Islands, which include Rhodes, Kos, and the picturesque Symi, are just a short distance away, so you can easily combine your Sailing Chef Blue Voyage along Turkey's Riviera with a stay on one of the Greek Islands.
